Holy Unction is a sacrament that, by blessing the believer's body with sanctified oil, calls down God's grace, healing one's physical and spiritual infirmities.

The sacrament of "anointing with oil" was instituted by our Lord Jesus Christ Himself (Matt. 10:1; Mark 6:13). In addition to the Holy Apostle James, Origen and the Holy Hierarchs Irenæus of Lyons, Basil the Great, and John Chrysostom all attest to its existence in the Early Church (indeed, they are the authors of the prayers read during the performing of the Sacrament).
